Call for speakers

With the present call for speakers, the Department of Media, Telecommunications and Digital Policy is inviting interested experts to submit their applications as a speaker for one or more of the following topics:

- Tuesday, October 5: Enabling Greater Connectivity
 - o Why do we need connectivity? How does connectivity affect our lives? Which innovations drive our every day life?
- Wednesday, October 6: Sustainable Connectivity
 - o How can communication technologies work on their ecological footprint? And how, in return, can communication technologies help developing a sustainable society? Which opportunities arise through modern communication technologies like 5G in regards to a more inclusive digital society?
- Thursday, October 7: Enabling the Connectivity of Tomorrow
 - o Which innovations are envisioned in terms of future communication network and a more efficient use of spectrum? Which opportunities lie ahead through combining different technologies?

The conference aims at combining various perspectives, be it from scientists and researchers from all scientific backgrounds or from project leaders working on applied use cases.

The Department of Media, Telecommunications and Digital Policy has appointed CLT Media Ltd with the preparation of the presentations and panel discussions of the conference.

Guidelines:

- Interested speakers are invited to submit their expression of interest latest by July 31 2021, 23:59:59 CEST via e-mail to both:
 - o production@clt-media.com
 - o telecom@smc.etat.lu
- The expression of interest should indicate:
 - o Proposed title of the intervention
 - o Short abstract of the main findings / outcomes to be presented
 - o Short bio
 - o Links to further documentation (previous presentations, research papers, project websites,...)

The conference team will get in touch with you to inform you about the next steps.
- All talks are in English.
- Talks can be either quick talks and keynote speeches.
- Since the conference will be organized in a hybrid way, talks and presentations have to fit the local and the online audience.
- Talks can be done either physically or remotely. A physical presence for speakers is preferred. The conference team will inform you and will keep you updated on the evolution of the Covid restrictions in Luxembourg.
